RE: Harlem Rockets Comedy basketball

I had the opportunity to work with Scott Jordan, of 207 Entertainment, for the Harlem Rockets Comedy basketball event held here in our gym on December 2nd of this year. Scott has to rank at the top of a list of energetic, organized, confident and caring producers of events I have had to work with. His daily communication meant that I didn't have to worry about the details or organization of the event. He planned and produced an event that by all accounts the attendees said was wonderful. I know the young students and even older adults enjoyed the show. I would certainly be willing to work with him again on future shows.
